STUDENT RECOGNITION

Evey Lingwall is the math scholar of the week! She works hard in class by participating in the discussion and trying the task every day. Evey will give other student's opportunities to answer questions before offering her own insights. She is happy to work with anyone and other students are happy to have her in their groups. Evey does a great job of increasing her own mathematical understanding and helping those around her understand better too!

PERFORMER OF THE WEEK

Throughout his time in the Salem Hills Band Program, Caleb has shown his commitment to the band in many different ways. From taking on different instruments to optimize our ensemble's instrumentation to advocating for the best possible band experience that can be offered to all students, it is safe to say that Caleb is a team player through and through. His love and enthusiasm for music is infectious, and you can see it through his eagerness to play at any and every possible opportunity. We look forward to seeing how Caleb's commitment to music will serve his audiences in the years ahead!
